CHRISTIAN SCHOOL

Motivate to think | Prepare to learn | Equip to serve

Kendall Christian School is pleased to offer Speech-Language and Occupational Therapy to our students on campus. Individualized therapy plans will target the child's specific needs. Whether your child is currently receiving therapy or you have concerns regarding their speech-language, fine motor, or sensory development, please consider our amazing program.

Lorelle Vascos-Pages, MS. CCC-SLP, CIMI, C-SIPT

Is the director of the KCS therapy program. She earned a Masters degree in Speech-Language Pathology from Florida International University and has continued her educational career with extensive specialized certifications in her field. She has been a practicing therapist for over 16 years working in hospitals, homes, schools, and her focus level in private practice. Her therapy approach is a dynamic whole body team approach to help each child reach their maximum growth and potential.

Samantha Cosio-Noy, MS. CCC-SLP

Samantha earned a Master's degree in Speech-Language Pathology at Nova Southeastern University. Samantha has experience working with culturally and linguistically diverse children and adults in clinical, educational, and medical settings. She is a passionate therapist with great clinical skills and rapport with her kids, parents, and teachers.
